Hay-nothing doing: change market was weak." The firmness of the cotton and grain markets at Liverpool, and the prospects of a continued liberal exspeculative interest and every dealer wishes weaken the market. The principal demand for exchange at present is to cover the specie imported from Europe. Gold was on the advance from the lowest figure, 107, quoting in New York at the opening 107½, 107½, and at noon, 107½. The York Bulletin, of Saturday, states that further withdrawais of gold from the Bank of England for shipment to the United States having been made to day to the extent of £165,000. The steamers which have arrived since we wrote yesterday landed $847,000 gold. These considerations, landed $847,000 gold. These considerations are specially of peachblows. These considerations, in addition to the growing belief that there will be a perific settlement of the Presidential account for the decline." The question whether the gold premium has been as low as 107 before, since the war, is answered by the following from the New York Times: "In June, 1863, the premium on gold rose from 163½ to 109½. In November, 1873, when the mercantile community had become cavineed that the business depression was not because the premium, sank to 6½. It has never since been so 1 w as it was when the market closed on ye orday at 107. The Times adds: "According to Mr. Morrill's report, the net decrease in the circulation of the national anks, from June 20, 1874—the date of the finance bill of that year—to Novembr 2, 1, 1876, was $20,163,364. Liverpool telegrams were especially satisfactory and encouraging. There was a good inquiry in our market, principally from spinners, while speculators show a fair appreciation of the position. After the full purchases of the day A large amount of stained cotton is now on he tables, but when at rates to please it is readily taken. The market closed steady, with considerable firmness. The New York

Cotton Planters, Attention! Save Your Unopened Cotton Bolls - Read the Following Certificates, and Profit by the Experience of Others:

OFFICE OF CLARKE, JOHNSON & CO, MEMPHIS, TREES, December 2, 1876. Messrs, Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tetta,:

GENTS—I have in successful operation on my plantation at Bradiey's Landing, Arkansas, one of your "Complete Cotton Cleaners," and truly find it "an indispensable machine" in my ginhouse. It does to perfection all you claim for it in removing the dirt, dust and light leaf trash, and in addition to this, it estables me to save all the cotton remaining in my fleshs in unopened and fronted bolds. These would be a total loss, as I know of no gin on which they can be ginned; but by running through your "C. C. C." they are opened and separated in such a manner that I can, on my "Champion Gin," make a sample of cotton for which I am to-day offered 1015c per pound, thus making what I consider a net profit to me of at least thirty delians on every bale of cotton which I can so secure, for without the "C. C. C." It would be a total loss, while with its assistance I expect to make nearly a hundred bales.

The profit resulting from the use of your "C. C. C." in such a case is immense, and no planter should, for this reason especially, be without one of them. Yours, etc.

GENTS—Last season I run one of your "Complete Cotton Cleaners" in the "Memphis Gins," and in addition to the certificate which I have already given as to its value, I will add that I experimented fully as to working up the unopened and frosted boils, which remain in the fields after picking is usually fluished. I found that by using your "C. C. C." these unopened boils were put in a favorable condition for ginning on my "Champiou Gins," producing a sample of contant worth from Sc to 10s per pound.

I believe so firmly in the value of its operations on the boils now left to the cotton fields that I would be glad to enter into correspondence with any parties who have and wish to dispose of them, as I want aff I can get of them. Yours, etc.,

The crop of frosted and unopened bolls remaining in the cotton fields is unusually large this year, and we cannot too strongly urge upon the planter the necessity of utilizing every dollar's worth of what he has labored so hard to produce. The "Complete Cotton Cleaner" theroughly opens up the bolls, enabling them to be ginned; otherwise, they would not in the fields, a total loss. To large planters respecially, this can be made an item of income running into the thousands, and possibly saving many of them from harrassing lebts, which would otherwise result from the shortness of their crop. The "Complete Cotton Cleaner" is manufactured and sold by ALLISON BROTHERS, 17 Union Street, Memphis. Teun.,
